Throughout the given period, we have worked closely with Damir on full-time terms for about 3 years from 2014. and then from 2017. as a consultant, external admin, and developer as of today.

We're delighted with all the work he has been providing us through the years in the variety of our needs in web development, design, IT administration, cyber-security, and various communication with project or service stakeholders where his know-how was needed.
